Mr. Vineet Joshi, Chairman of Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) is deeply involved with school reforms, notably the CCE pattern, and has introduced innovations in academic and vocational domains. The popularity of CBSE International targeted at CBSE schools abroad to enrich the curriculum is credited to his initiative. Under his systematic guidance and leadership CBSE is taking giant strides which will undoubtedly impact school education in the future

Prof. M M Pant has been a practitioner in the fields of Law, IT enabled education and IT implementation. A Ph.D. in Computational Physics and with a professional degree in Law, he has been associated with many educational organizations as member of committees or working groups. With 40 years of experience in the educational field, he is now exploring the change in the nature of the traditional lecture in the class-room to a collaborative conversation between the teacher and learner(s).

Investigative journalist, Ms. Nalini Singh stands out for her forthright and bold news reporting. Her programs on a variety of issues have been telecast on several networks. The programs anchored and produced by her have won several prestigious awards. Her software production company - TV Live has produced popular trail blazing shows like Hello Zindagi and Ankhon Dekhi. She has the distinction of producing India's first ever exit poll on television during the 11th Lok Sabha elections in 1996.

Mr. Steven Rudolph, Director, Jiva Education, is an American educator. His interest in the ancient Vedic science of learning brought him to India. After years of research, he established the Jiva Public School, an innovative institute for children based on his Multiple Natures theory. A gifted speaker and presenter, he has conducted seminars and workshops across India to facilitate students, teachers and parents to discover and bring out their innate talents
